

There's a magic spell in the fumes of good, pure Coffee, the kind that refreshes and invigorates even by the odor alone. When the fragrance of our pure Coffee reaches the nostrils it craves a desire to taste at once the magnetic nectar from which the aroma comes. It is the same way with our choice Teas, which satisfy the desires of the most particular tea-drinkers.

ILWACO

Mrs. Bert Sprague, of Chinook, spent a few days in Ilwaco, the latter part of the week.

Miss Greta Campbell, who has been residing in Ilwaco for the past year with her aunt, Mrs. T. L. Fraser, left Friday for California, where she will be joined by her mother and in the future, they will make their home in some part of that state.

Mrs. Chas. Eckert and daughter, Frances, returned Friday from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Miller, of North Beach.

Mrs. A. N. Bohn, of The Dalles, Ore., who has been visiting old friends in Ilwaco for a short time left Saturday for South Bend, Wash.

J. A. Howerton returned Saturday morning from a short business trip to Seattle and Portland.

One of the most enjoyable events enjoyed by the Ilwaco young people for some time, was the dance given Friday evening by Captain Stuart, of the Cape Disappointment Life Saving crew. About 7:30 the power boat left the cannery dock with a good number of the young folks and in a very short time they arrived at Fort Canby. After the dance, the boat returned with the crowd all declaring Mr. Stuart one of the best of hosts.

Walter Williams returned Saturday morning from a week spent in Portland on business.

R. A. Hawkins returned Saturday from a short business trip to Tacoma, Wash.

Work will begin Monday in the camp of Geo. A. Mosher, on Bear River, quite a number of men from Ilwaco will be employed in that way making this industry a benefit to the town.

A Jeweler's Experience

C. R. Kluger, the jeweler, 1060 Virginia avenue, Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my backache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day, and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and other remedies had failed. IT'S A GOOD THING TO REFER to the reputation of a store before making any important purchases therein. Before you buy is the time to look up the matter. Ask questions. Find out if the store you intend patronizing keeps its pledges. Be sure that you learn if it sells the qualities it claims; if it treats its customers honestly and fairly, then, if satisfied, buy there. CITIZENS' CONVENTION SAME OLD FARCE

WITH DEMOCRATS IN THE SADDLE, AS USUAL, ASTORIA REPUBLICANS TAKE THEIR HAND-OUT.

Pursuant to the published call of its Democratic sponsors, the meeting of the Citizens' party last night was well attended, and for the first hour of its duration, was quite representative, but this was steadily reduced as the convention proceeded, and by the time the crux was reached, the nominations for the mayoralty, it had shrunk to its normal and primal elements, that of a purely Democratic assemblage; and this with everything the real leader of the local Democracy wanted, sealed, and all but delivered.

With a complete and forecasted staff of officers, headed by Dr. Alfred Kinney, Democrat; with Aubrey D. Garner, Democrat, for secretary; with a Democratic committee on rules, consisting of Messrs. Lebeck, Gaston (Republican), and Young, and a Democratic committee of platform in the persons of Messrs. Evans, Smith and Knobloch (the latter one of the only two concessions to the Republican interests present), the trend of the business was early and clearly divined, and the divination lost nothing by way of proof in every detail that followed. The two main committees were sent out to formulate their reports and when these arrived they but confirmed the actual status of the convention. This with A. M. Smith, master of ceremonies, fixed the range and angle of procedure beyond all fear of failure.

Ward committees, consisting of those present from each of the four wards, were called upon to retire and make their several nominations for the long and short terms for the water commission and the common council, and these reporting, showed the following results:

First Ward—Water Commission, 8 year term, Asmus Brix; 4 year term, Franz Kankkonen. Council—4 year term, Charles Wilson; 2 year term, F. J. Carney.

Second Ward—Water Commission, 8 years, F. A. Fisher; 4 years, H. G. Van Dusen. Council—4 years, George Kaboth; 2 years, Dr. W. C. Logan.

Third Ward—Water Commission, 8 years, C. J. Trenchard; 4 years, J. W. Welch. Council—4 years, C. A. Lieneweber; 2 years, A. L. Fox.

Fourth Ward—Water Commission, 8 years, I. C. Anderson; 4 years, Otto Peterson. Council—4 years, L. O. Belland; 2 years, P. A. Stangland.

These were all promptly ratified by the convention as a whole; and in this behalf, and beyond the touch and influence of the urbane master of the hour, there was some freedom of expression and action that stood for the Republican desires of those present.

Andrew Young was then nominated for Water Commissioner at large, and this was fully ratified, as was the nomination of Jens Hanson, for the office of councilman at large, immediately following. And Charles H. Abercrombie was given the undisputed nomination for the city attorneyship, as the next office in sequence for consideration.

The office of Auditor and Police Judge went to Olof Anderson with a unanimous bang of good will from the whole house, and was happily received by the nominee who made a clever talk in response to the honor conferred. This process was duplicated on the instant in the case of Thomas Dealeys nomination for continuance in the city treasuryship, he, too, responded feelingly when called upon. And the nomination to the city surveyorship went to Alfred S. Tee on equally free and friendly terms.

In the matter of the Street Superintendency, there were four nominees, who received, in all 321 votes from the house, divided as follows among the aspirants, to-wit: Siegfried Wentjar, 65; H. E. Steffens, 39; J. F. Kearney, 149; and T. B. Loughery, 68. Mr. Kearney's nomination was made unanimous, and he thanked the house cordially for the support given him in the premise.

Dr. Charles W. Barr received the unanimous vote of the house for the nomination to the Police Commissionership in succession of Judge Chas. H. Page, whose term expires this year.

This brought the proceedings down to the crucial test of the character and control of the Citizens' convention the mayoralty contest. There were three nominees, to-wit, Samuel Elmore, Isaac Bergman, and A. M. Smith; and in this particular, a clever little ruse was employed that was not thought of in the case of the four aspirants for the street superintendency. The genial boss of the situation moved that when the triangular vote was cast and counted, that the lowest man be eliminated, and a new vote be taken as between the remaining candidates, and this prevailed, of course; so that when the totals were announced giving Mr. Elmore 80 votes, Mr. Bergman 89, and Mr. Smith 131, the Republican nominee was dropped, and the vote of the house recast, resulting in favor of A. M. Smith at the ratio of 148 to 111 for Mr. Bergman, and Mr. Smith was declared, unanimously, the nominee of the convention, which was pretty good work for the man who 24 hours earlier sought nothing at the hands of the people save the modest nomination and gift of an election to the police commissionership.

Mr. Smith, with the modesty that makes him just what he is, the "bos of the city," returned his surprised thanks for the unexpected honor, in a neat little speech, with which the convention he had dominated from beginning to end, closed within the half hour of midnight.

It was simply a re-hash of the same old inimitable story that has been told in this city so many times, and for which Republican lethargy and stupidity are directly responsible.

In the course of conversation with Mr. Smith after the meeting was over that gentleman made the declaration that under no circumstances, in the event of his election to the mayoralty this year, would he be a candidate for re-election to that office. And he meant it.

Astoria Citizens Gladly Testify and Confidently Recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

It is testimony like the following that has placed Doan's Kidney Pills so far above competitors. When people right here at home raise their voice in praise there is no room for doubt. Read the public statement of an Astoria citizen:

Theodore Josephson, of 515 Seventh street, Astoria, Ore., says: "About five years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills and derived great benefit. I was suffering from pains across my back and loins, at times so severe that I was unable to stoop. My kidneys also bothered me a great deal, the secretions being too frequent. At last Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention and I procured a box at Rogers' drug store. Thanks to this remedy my health is now excellent."

LIKE VOICE FROM DEAD.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Although he has been dead for several months, the voice of Ira D. Sankey, the noted evangelist, was again heard last night in the Simpson Methodist Church in Brooklyn. Strangely thrilled, the large congregation heard the notes of the well known voice reproduced from a phonograph into which Mr. Sankey sang a number of his hymns a short time before he died. The hymns reproduced were "The Ninety and Nine," "Hiding In Thee," "There Is No Dark Valley," and "Jesus of Nazareth Is Passing By."

BOY SHOT IN BACK.

FRESNO, Cal. Oct. 26.—Carl Berg, a 17-year-old boy was shot and instantly killed yesterday by Henry Lung, a companion of the same age, while the victim and his slayer with several other boys were out hunting. Lung claims that Berg was shot accidentally, but is detained at the city prison pending an investigation of the shooting. It is said that the wound in Berg's back is powder-burned, showing that the bullet was fired at close range. Lung affirms that he had been shooting at squirrels and had dropped behind, but was unable to say how the shooting occurred.

NURSE KILLS HERSELF.

OAKLAND, Oct. 26. — Violet Lang, aged 23, a nurse, employed in the family of L. E. Stearns, committed suicide last night by drinking carbolic acid. The girl who came from Canada, is said to have suffered from fits of melancholy.

FROM LOCAL RAINS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Underground streams in Southern California, depend upon rainfall within their territory and do not come from distant sources, according to geological survey reports. The reports say that the important subterranean basins in Southern California are supplied with water which falls upon the immediate surface or flows through the ground from tributary streams. There have been theories that waters from the distant Sierras, or the Colorado river, or the Pacific Ocean may, by underground channels or by seepage, reach the San Gabriel valley of the Pomona neighborhood.

Many of the largest water systems are dependent upon the subsidiary plants to keep up their supplies, during the summer and fall and in a number of places pumped or artesian waters are the sole dependence of thriving communities. A conservative estimate of the proportion of underground water now used during the late summer periods after dry winters, when the surface supply is lowest and the pumps are busiest, is as three or four to one.

RACES NEARLY OVER.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The last New York race meeting of the season will begin tomorrow at Jamaica. Instead of the usual full two weeks, however, there will be but five days this year. The racing days will be Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of this week and Monday and Wednesday of next week. Purses have been cut down much to the disgust of those who say there is no reason for this action as the track made $80,000 at the Spring meeting and has never had a losing day since it was opened. Following this meeting large numbers of horses will be shipped to New Orleans and California, where racing will be conducted all winter.
